Excise Income Tax Cuts Seen By 1966, '67

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's long-range plans call for a cut in excise taxes in 1966 and another reduction in income taxes the following year, informed sources said today.

They said there is a strong possibility President Johnson will announce this tentative timetable during next fall's presidential campaign.

There have been a few public hints of further tax revision. On April 28, Johnson said he could "see another tax cut a few years down the road" if the $12-billion income tax reduction enacted this year stimulated the economy into providing enough revenue to balance the budget.

There are signs that the administration would consider clipping almost every category of excise taxes, although there may be both congressional and administration opposition to trimming some earmarked taxes, such as gasoline and vehicle taxes used for federal-state road programs.

In February, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said at a news conference that reductions in excise taxes could come in 1965, but he indicated that such cuts might not be pushed until 1966 or later.

During Senate consideration of the tax cut bill some senators demanded reduction in excises along with the income tax reduction. Proponents of the tax reduction agreed then to future hearings on the excise taxes.

Excise levies cover a wide variety of products and services: cosmetics, jewelry, furs, telephone tolls, automobiles, gasoline, theater admissions, sporting goods, liquor and cigarettes.

These levies are expected to provide $14.6 billion in revenue during the fiscal year which begins July 1—an increase of $3 billion since 1960.

Proposals for further revisions in income tax rates obviously would be timed to coincide with the first balanced budget since 1960. Treasury officials talk about balancing the budget in fiscal 1967, which begins July 1, 1966, although they admit this is a tough target.

A dramatic improvement in federal finances obviously would improve the chances of persuading Congress to reduce taxes further.

Overpass Not Yet Ready

Opening Delayed For Week Or Two

The city's new W. State St. overpass at the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks will not be open in time to accommodate holiday traffic on Memorial Day weekend, The Salem News learned today.

In fact, it may be a week or two yet before the span is formally opened.

Earl Nelson, Division 11 director for the Ohio Department of Highways, said today that a number of finishing touches remains to be done before the bridge can be used. It is necessary that high marks and other irregularities on the poured concrete be smoothed and leveled by use of a grinder and it probably will be next week before these bumps can be ground off, he explained.

"We can't open the overhead with workmen still on the job," he said, "and the contractor has a number of finishing details to complete." Railing is yet to be installed.

Opening of the span will occur after it has been inspected by Fred Pfahl of Columbus, construction field engineer for the State Highway Department.

Even when the overpass opens, probably early next month, it will be more than a month ahead of the July 30 completion date of the general contractor, the A. P. O'Horo Company of Youngstown. Work on the $1-185,230 job began in April of 1963.

One Hurt, One Cited In City Traffic

A woman was injured and a district motorist was cited on two traffic counts in two city accidents today and Monday.

Mrs. Ruth I. Harding, 60, of Rayland, O. suffered head and back injuries and was treated by a physician after a car her husband was driving was struck from behind by a Lisbon motorist Monday at 2:16 p.m. at the intersection of S. Lincoln and Franklin.

Harry H. Harding, 61, was heading north on S. Lincoln when he stopped at the red light and was hit in the rear by a car operated by Ernest G. Logston, 37, of 384 E. Chestnut St., Lisbon.

Logston was cited for failing

Lisbon Seeks Retention of Rail Station

LISBON — Council adopted resolutions Monday night seeking retention of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad freight station in the village and eliminating a traffic hazard on Rt. 164 at the south edge of town.

The first resolution opposes the railroad's proposal to eliminate the freight station here, the terminal of the Niles-Lisbon branch. A hearing on the railroad's application is scheduled Wednesday before the Public Utilities Commission at Columbus.

Council authorized clerk-treasurer Ray Hempstead to send the resolution to Erie-Lackawanna and the PUCO. The railroad also plans to close the freight stations at Leetonia and Canfield on the same line.

The other resolution calls on the department of highways to design and construct an improvement eliminating the traffic hazard, with the village paying $500 of the cost.

The hazard is a narrow concrete bridge situated in a dog-leg turn on Rt. 164, which was improved south of the bridge two years ago. North of the bridge there are sharp right and left turns within 100 feet of each other. A railroad crossing and the entrance to a feed mill are also in the immediate area.

A Wellsville man was injured early Sunday when his northbound car rammed the concrete bridge and an identical mishap last Nov. 15 killed George Alek of Salem and injured three other Lisbon teachers who were returning from a meeting in East Liverpool.

Hempstead will send the resolution to the department's division 11 office at New Philadel-

Barry's Battle

Senator Going 'All Out' In California

By JACK BELL
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For perhaps the first time in his life, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.,

AP News Analysis

is pouring all his strength into an effort to win a political battle.

It is a grim and fighting Goldwater who is spurring his campaign into the stretch run with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the 86 California nominating votes that will garland the winner of this state's June 2 primary.

For Goldwater, running for office in the past has been something of a happy-go-lucky lark. He drifted into the contest for the Republican presidential nomination without giving much thought to the grind involved in primary campaigning.

In New Hampshire's first primary, Goldwater was accounted as something less than an enthusiastic campaigner. In Oregon he canceled out personal appearances a month before the voting when the polls indicated he wasn't doing so well. He was second to Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. in New Hampshire and third behind Rockefeller and Lodge in Oregon.

But California is a different story. Goldwater is showing for the first time that, shoved into a corner, he can fight hard.

This state, which once looked like a cinch for the Arizona senator, doesn't look that way any more. The reason is, in Goldwater's words, that other announced and unannounced contenders for the nomination have "joined in opposing me here in California."

There isn't much doubt, despite some public denials, that backers of every other potential

U.S. Troops In S. Viet Nam Get 'Thanks'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A young couple "didn't plan on a lot of publicity," but their attempt to say "thank you" to American troops in Viet Nam has traveled through the highest military channels.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Geiger of suburban Kettering read a magazine article of letters from an American pilot killed in Viet Nam.

"He wrote to his wife about how Americans were fighting and dying in Viet Nam and nobody cared," said 31-year-old Geiger. "I was very moved by what he said and I just felt like I had to write a letter."

They sent the letter to their congressman, Rep. Paul Schenck, R-Ohio, who forwarded it to Secretary of De-

Students Get Quaker Annual

Hundreds of copies of the new Quaker annual, a flashy red number with new innovations this year, were distributed today at the annual Quaker recognition assembly.

The staff, headed by editor-in-chief Betsy Heston and advised by Miss Barbara Cobourn, was on needles and pins Monday when delivery of the 950 copies was delayed.

It was an exciting time for the staff heads when the boxes were opened and the beautiful books, smelling of new ink and binding glue, were hastily perused.

The cover designed by Joel Fisher, a highly rated young artist, depicts "Progress." The design, selected best in competition, was almost a discard, considered inferior by the young artist. He had scribbled it on the back of his final entry, but Miss Heston and Miss Cobourn rated it best.

The new yearbook carries out the theme of progress through a series of choice literary phrases worded by Dee Whitney, one of two copy editors, along with Sue Schmid.

The 1964 edition is also 9 x 12 inches, larger than before, Miss Cobourn said, and is the first book in the 100-year history of the school to be printed by lithography. The results are sharp, vivid pictures. The 168 - page

Insurance Covers $58,000 Loss

County Home Barn Will Be Replaced

The Columbiana County Home barn destroyed by fire Monday will be rebuilt, county commissioners said today.

The barn itself was insured for $47,500 and contents for $11,000.

Cause of the fire, which was discovered by a resident at the infirmary at 11 a.m. yesterday, has not been determined, although Superintendent Russell Phillips who was one of the first to reach the burning structure said the flames were in the granary section of the 54-year-old two-story barn. In a matter of minutes the flames raged out of control and firemen from five neighboring departments concentrated their efforts on saving adjacent buildings.

The roof of the milk house built several years ago was burned off, but the milking equipment was reported to be undamaged.

Lost in the barn were a hay baler, a conveyor wagon, miscellaneous tools, fence wire, 700 bales of hay, 700 bales of straw, seed potatoes and feed for livestock.

Workmen from the Riley Construction Co. who are building the new hospital building were instrumental in getting the livestock from the burning building. "Dutch" Miles carried out a number of calves.

Firemen from five departments, Lisbon, Hanoverton, Wintona-Butler, Center-Elkrun and Salem (Perry township) responded.

Neighbors also helped far into the night with milking, cleaning stalls in shed adjoining the barn, so that it can be made into milking parlor for the 30 head of milk cows that the county home milk each morning and evening. The cows were milked outside the barn last night and this morning with a portable milker.

Stevenson Speaks to UN On Viet Nam

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson replies to critics of U.S. policy in South Viet Nam before the U.N. Security Council today following France's rejection of American proposals to deal with the Cambodian border dispute.

The U.S. chief delegate was expected to answer France's call for a council resolution depicting recent violations of Cambodia's frontiers and proposing that "those who bear responsibility should pay reparations."

French Ambassador Roger Seydoux came out Monday against Stevenson's proposal that the United Nations police the disputed frontier if South Viet Nam and Cambodia cannot agree on joint border patrols

Annual Television Emmy Awards Presented

Dick Van Dyke Show Is Big Winner

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — CBS-TV, with 13 awards — five of them via the "Dick Van Dyke Show," — is big winner today of the 16th annual television Emmy Awards.

"It sure pays to boycott," said the handsome Van Dyke, clutching his first Emmy for best actor. "I bet CBS is sorry now they started this whole thing—or maybe they're glad."

Van Dyke was referring to the CBS and ABC boycott of the Emmy show Monday night. Both networks had charged NBC-TV with bloc voting in previous awards.

NBC the only non-boycotter, took second with nine Emmies and ABC took third with five, four of them won by the John F. Kennedy documentary "The Making of the President, 1960."

Master of ceremonies Joey Bishop commented on the NBC-TV telecast: "If NBC drops out of this thing, there will be immediate dancing."

Cuban Exiles Drop Supplies on Island

FOT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban exile organization described today in a copy-right story in the Pompano Beach Sun-Sentinel how it dropped supplies, including a complete field hospital unit, to anti-Castro guerrillas in Cuba.

Manuel Fernandez, a member of the 30th of November Movement of the International Anti-Communist Brigade, said the supply drop took place Monday morning.

Fernandez told Jack Hord, the Sun-Sentinel city editor, the plane took off from south Florida, penetrated the Cuban defense radar, dropped the supplies and then headed for Santiago de Cuba.

There, according to the exile, they dropped 150,000 leaflets telling the people of the city that liberation was on its way.

Communists Stopped Short Of Muong Soui

Britain Considers Asking Meeting of Geneva Conference

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian neutralists claimed today that part of their army had launched a counterattack and driven the Communists back in the Muong Kheung sector north-west of the Plaine des Jarres.

Gen. Amkha Soukhavong, neutralist military adviser to Premier Souvanna Phouma, said the Communists had been stopped 12 miles short of their next objective, Muong Soui, on a main east-west highway from the plain.

Unofficial reports told of clashes only seven miles from Muong Soui.

Amkha said a battalion of neutralist infantry, 19 tanks and 8 armored cars, which had been routed from their headquarters at Muong Kheung, on the northwest fringe of the strategic plain recaptured two-thirds of the sector.

Prince Souvanna warned the National Assembly that if Muong Soui fell, the Communists would threaten the royal capital of Luang Prabang and Vang Vieng on the main road south to Vientiane.

Some 2,500 right-wing troops were spread out in a defense line above Borikhane, about 25 air miles east of Vientiane. The village is the last major right-wing defense point between another Communist force and the rightist-controlled town of Pak-sane, on the Mekong River border with Thailand.

The Communists captured the town of Tha Thom 12 days ago and are using it as a base for a move against Borikhane less than 20 miles away.

Souvanna told the assembly he rejected an invitation by the Pathet Lao chief, Prince Souphannouvong, to go to his Khang Khay headquarters for peace talks. Souvanna said he asked Souphanouvong to meet with him at Luang Prabang.

Diplomatic sources said Britain is considering issuing invitations for a consultation here of ambassadors from the 14 nations of the Geneva conference on Laos to discuss steps to avoid further deterioration of the situation.

Communist countries are demanding a full-fledged Geneva conference be reconvened and are not expected to take part in local consultations.

Rights Bill Amendments To Be Aired

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders plan to introduce today the package of amendments they are counting on to win passage of a revised civil rights bill.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen announced Monday after a fourth and final GOP conference on the proposed changes that they would be ready for introduction late today—the 64th day of Senate debate on civil rights.

He also predicted that the votes will be available to shut off a Southern filibuster against civil rights legislation. "I believe we can get cloture," he said. "And I think we have to have cloture now."

Dirksen said the changes will be discussed thoroughly and ample time will be allowed for rebuttal by Southern senators, who already have pronounced the package completely unacceptable.

Some senators have said an attempt will be made the second week in June to get the

TV-Radio Today

She's a fresh-faced urchin with a thousand freckles on her mug and her mischievous smile could have been drawn on her

Alan Gill
She's 18 years old, shortly will be a millionairess, is named Rita Pavone, and is the rock n' roll sensation of Italy, Germany, Spain, Latin America, and, in just five or six minutes, the English-speaking world.

YOU COULD SEE what I mean a week ago on "The Ed Sullivan Show" when, clad in her usual ensemble of boy's shirt, suspenders, peak cap, trousers and boots, she stomped through her rendition of "Remember Me?" and "Just Once More."

Earlier in the week, she stomped through them for a fellow who'd come knocking at her hotel room door.

It seems her manager, a suave chap named Teddy Ren, had slipped a recording of "Remember Me?" onto the turntable, had turned the volume up to a clangor that threatened to shake the hotel to its foundations, and had bade the little imp to pantomime the number.

RITA unsnagged her booted, trousered and shirt-sleeved joints, stalked to the center of the carpet and, quite suddenly, fell into a paroxysm of wagging shoulders and egg-beating knees.

Her right hand gestured a "Hey, c'mere" with every beat and her right eye, the size of a telephone dial, winked a junior witch's wink. It may not be art, but it sure is show biz.

For a girl who was a simple assistant seamstress (le piccinine, or "very little one") less than two years ago, Rita has come along a bit—from $12 a week to $21,000 a week now.

More than 8 million of her records have been sold. Her first American album, just cut, will be out the first week in June, containing 12 songs in crisp, clean English phonetically learned by Miss Pavone in a mere three days.

THE GREAT Frederico Fellini believes the girl with her expressive face has a great future in films. And Rita herself soon will be talking with some Hollywood fellows about the same subject.

Oh, yes, there's a TV series coming up in Italy in the fall, with Rita playing a small boy named "Giam Burrasca" (John the Storm) dressed in the Fauntleroy barb of 1910 and cavorting about in musical adventures not too dissimilar from the shenanigans of Dennis the Menace.

Other measures of her success? Well, her "Now That You're Gone" has been the No. 1 record in Italy, her "If I Was a Boy" was tops on the German Hit Parade for months, and her records simultaneously have placed first, fourth and sixth in the hearts of the Argentinians.

HER FAN MAIL sometimes mounts literally thousands of mash notes a day. ("Many of them are marriage offers," she said through an interpreter. "There's a duke in Sicily who keeps writing letters proposing marriage, but I've said clearly that I'm not interested. He still writes, but I don't answer.")

She can now afford a wardrobe of 70 suspenders, 70 shirts, 70 trousers and a dozen or so pairs of boots.

Her father, who worked in an auto plant in Turin until all the excitement began, has retired and has just opened a tavern in Rome called the Pavone Bar.

HIGH ON ONE of the hills of Rome, in a suburb called Ariccia, the Pavone family—father, mother, three boys and Rita—is building a rather sumptuous villa, in "English country style."

Best of all, Rita now tools about the country in a midget MG.

"The horn has a stupid klaxon sound," she said, giggling a very young giggle. "The same noise made by the bus going to Rome. Everybody thinks the bus is coming. But then they see it's me and they call, 'Rita! Rita! Rita!'"

Surviving Bobby Baker

The Bobby Baker inquiry will be fudged out of sight, if all goes well in the U.S. Senate, by smearing it with a sugar-coated proposal for a code of senatorial ethics.

Then, when public concern has been diverted from the didoes of Democratic clerk Bobby when he was wheeling and dealing under the tutelage of experts, the code of ethics will be filed and forgotten—and everything will be as before.

It means nothing for outsiders to view this with alarm.

No outsider can impose his views on senators and representatives. They are the source of the law. If they renege on the trust placed in their hands, all of us will squish down the drain together.

This republic needs good examples to stiffen its moral fiber. The prestige of government rises and falls with events. At this particular moment in history the prestige of Congress is falling.

THE IMPRESSION has been made that our legislators, like the legislators of the unadorned Fourth Republic of France, are playing politics like a game, instead of a mission for the preservation of freedom.

They are trying to keep step with wheelers and dealers who are setting the pace. They are so busy looking after themselves they have lost sight of the republic that has been placed in their keeping. They are using government to enhance themselves, instead of using their skill and influence to enhance government.

They are ruthless in casting aspersions on the integrity of others called on to serve in official positions but callous about aspersions against themselves. They demand full disclosure of the special interests of businessmen who accept appointments but refuse, with a few exceptions, to tell what axes they are sharpening.

Moreover, when this is mentioned they reply that they are as good as anyone else, as if that were enough. It isn't.

They must be better than anyone else in this country. They must be the exemplars of all the American virtues, or this whole experiment in popular government was foredoomed to failure from the beginning, just the way the cynics insisted it was in the 18th century.

THE CYNICS SAID popular government would put a premium on the least worthy among us because opportunists would find it easiest to get elected and stay elected.

They said our senators and representatives would turn into agents of treasury raiders and abusers of public power.

They said the representatives of the people would become oppressors because they would be ordinary people and ordinary people could not be trusted with power. That's why it is not enough to be as good as anyone else when serving in a public office. Public officials should be better than anyone else.

What Bobby Baker did with his wheeling and dealing is past and gone. The country could survive Bobby. Whether it can survive the absence of ethics that gave him his chance to feather a nest while serving on the public payroll for public peanuts — that is the question.

Summer Learning

Vacation time or not, the "Business As Usual" sign will be out most of the summer at the Salem Kent State Academic Center.

Special classes are offered in June, July and August to help college-bound seniors or others wanting special courses and credits. Even students home from other campuses may discover that the door to the local educational center is open at an opportune time.

The quest for knowledge rests with each individual's own ability and initiative.

Ever Ready

When fire broke out at the County Home Monday morning, the response of the fire departments from neighboring communities was instantaneous. Within a matter of minutes fire fighters from five departments were at the scene. Fortunately, the fire was confined to the main barn and the infirmary and hospital wing where a number of residents reside was not threatened as was first feared.

The reaction of the firemen was typical and commendable. It is a comforting thought to many of us in the northern Columbiana County district to know that our volunteer departments are not only well-trained and well-equipped but are ever vigilant.

Purely Personal

Summertime . . . when the living is easy and women take off most of their clothes to go to the grocery store.

When they make me czar of this country, highway speed limits will be posted like this: "Allowable range 35-55."

I am always impressed with the fact that one hour's drive in this part of the country can bring a complete change of scenery — even less than that in many localities.

Due to the way news is produced in spurts and flurries, I predict the hottest story of the moment — Communist gains in Southeastern Asia — will be colder than yesterday's funny paper by dependence Day.

The most discouraging thing about human behavior in this republic is our tendency to act as if everything were happening for the first time; as if we had no precedent for identifying the Gov. Wallace as a re-run of the anti-Constitutionalists who led the South to defeat a century ago.

My heart grows heavy when it happens — innocent people killed because cruiser policemen chased some panicky malefactor on a busy street. Was the chase worth the life it claimed?

Adlai E. Stevenson, our chief representative at the United Nations, continues to make the most of his spoken material, as he did in two presidential campaigns. Would-be public speakers should study his style, which I think of as sing-song crypticism.

This is the year I have kept my agreement with the truck gardeners to the last dot and period: If they refrain from writing for this newspaper, I won't raise garden stuff.

The New York Times, which keeps track of everything, says the news from Ulan Bator, capital of Mongolia, is bad. Because Red China may be planning a coup d'etat against the government of Premier Yumzahaglin Tsendenbal, who is sympathetic with Red Russia. This has become Item 37 Tsendenbal, who is sympathetic with Red Russia. This has become Item 37 on my worry list.

Fascinating items about the New York World's Fair keep piling up, like one about the shock of a foreign pavilion over paying $116 to two men for five minutes' work unloading three desks from a truck. Goggles like this are making some foreign exhibitors wonder if they'll come back next year.

The town most of us know best is Dodge City, where justice always prevails, the town doctor and the U.S. marshal are cozy with the leading lady vice lord, and no one ever demands an investigation.

After living many years in the off-the-road solitude of Rosy Fingered Dawn, I am entranced and excited by passing cars when exposed to this commonplace auto-age situation.

"This Is President Johnson Calling, Just In Case You Missed Me On TV"

Bobby Eying Senate Seat?

By VICTOR RIESEL

There have been gayer garden receptions at Bob Kennedy's Virginia home than the one the attorney general gave the afternoon of May 18. But the somberness was gone.

There was laughter in the air and only the fact that the special guests were the nation's most influential labor leaders was unusual.

Most of them had never been out to the McLean estate nor had they had the chance to meet as many Kennedys all at as Jacqueline Kennedy moved once. They were delighted among them "poised and adjusted."

She shook hands with such men of toil as Maritime Union chief, Joe Curran, Auto's Walter Reuther, Steel's Dave McDonald and, of course, Mr. Labor himself, George Meany. She charmed the ebullient Dave Dubinsky, Ladies Garment Workers' leader. When he asked about Caroline, Mrs. Kennedy emotionally related how her little son had learned to call himself "John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr."

At one point Bob Kennedy

led some of the labor men through the tumbling mass of children, ponies, cars and two dogs toward a recent addition to the old home.

"We had it all built with union labor," he said grinning, "so it's expensive, but it's kosher."

There was serious business, too. Labor's high command had come to present the Kennedys — among whom was Eunice Shriver — with document and other memorabilia for the John F. Kennedy library. There was an illuminated copy of labor's statement issued right after the funeral and a film, "Kennedy's Last Word to Labor," made during his speech to the AFL-CIO convention exactly one week before his assassination.

There also will be a $2 million contribution from the labor movement, and Dave McDonald proffered part of it in the form of a $20,000 check from the Steelworkers.

OF COURSE, political overtones and discussions were inevitable. Bob Kennedy wandered over to National Maritime Union president, Joe Curran, and the tall sailor, with uncharacteristic formality said:

"You are no doubt aware of the intense discussion in New York of the possibility of your running for the U.S. Senate." Kennedy, with arms folded, smiled, looked up at the union chief who had never been a devout "Bobby" supporter and replied that he was aware of the talk and what did they think in New York? Curran replied that the attorney general would find many labor friends there who would be willing to make a fight for him.

Later Kennedy discussed the Senate situation with Dubinsky and one or two others. Dubinsky, whose energy and braintrusting — along with the activities of his friend, Hatters Union leader, Alex Rose — built the powerful New York State Liberal party, appeared to believe that Mr. Kennedy would make a strong candidate.

THE SENTIMENT was not unanimous. Jacob (Jack) Potofsky, who long ago succeeded Sidney Hillman as president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, dissented.

During a short but intense discussion with some of the other union chiefs there, Potofsky remarked that Bob Kennedy's move into New York politics would be taken as an intrusion and an effort to use the state merely as a power base.

As the AFL-CIO executive council members got back into the five cars which had brought them to Virginia, some of them came away with the impression that the attorney general was determined to run in New York.

The above questions indicate nevertheless why it is possible for citizens to believe in the doctrine of equal rights and equal protection of the laws and yet disapprove of the methods that may be applied if the pending civil rights bill is written into law.

The referendum idea has been used to pass judgment on many proposals for state legislation, but no national referendum on any proposed federal law has ever been taken.

Members of Congress sometimes send out lists of questions to voters in their respective districts to ascertain the views of constituents on pending legislation. The final recourse of citizens, therefore, is to vote every two years for the candidates for Congress who favor or oppose particular proposals for legislation.

AN AFFIRMATIVE answer to all of the above questions would favor adoption of the pending civil rights bill as amended by the proposed compromise provisions.

Some of the persons who answer in the negative, however, could still like to see some form of civil rights legislation passed but with no such extensive power given to the federal government. Those who do not wish any legislation by the federal government, leaving such matters to the states to handle, would, of course, vote in the

Civic Pride

The citizens of Salem, who have so much pride in the Village Green, must fully agree with Mrs. A. A. Parker that this beautiful downtown area should not be disturbed.

I suggest the new monument for our World War II veterans and to the memory of our Korean War veterans be placed in the yard of the Memorial Building. W. H. Mullins donated this building to the city of Salem in honor of the World War veterans and designated this building to be open to the public and to be used by all citizens, young and old alike.

The front yard is surrounded by a beautiful hedge which furnishes an ideal setting for the proposed new monument.

Please notice the heading across the top of the Memorial Building.

Give and Take on 'Rights'

By RICHARD SPONG

"All government, indeed every human benefit and enjoyment, every virtue, and every prudent act, is founded on compromise and barter. We balance inconveniences; we give and take; we remit some rights that we may enjoy others, and we choose rather to be happy citizens than subtle disputants."

These words are from Edmund Burke's speech on "Conciliation with America," delivered before the House of Commons on March 22, 1775. Their meaning — indeed even the rhetoric — is being echoed on the U.S. Senate floor by Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, R-Ill, minority leader and key man in civil rights leadership.

Without the votes which Dirksen may be able to deliver, closure would be impossible to achieve. Dirksen's price is compromise, as represented by the agreement reached on May 13 by Dirksen, majority Whip Hubert H. Humphrey and Attorney Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sen. Dirksen had submitted 70 amendments to the civil rights bill, many of them technical. The major change he sought was to remove or reduce the federal government's powers to bring suit on behalf of individual plaintiffs against individual businessmen under Title II (public accommodations) and Title VII (fair employment practices).

The thrust of the agreement under both titles is that the government will sue only when it finds a "pattern" of racial discrimination.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS Acts of 1957 and 1960, first to pass the Senate since 1975, were made possible by bipartisan compromise. The history of Negro rights in the United States traces back to the institution of slavery and the Missouri Compromise of 1820.

Missouri's request for admission into the Union in 1818 brought the houses of Congress into a deadlock. The South, having half the senators, could prevent the admission of Missouri stripped of slavery. The North, powerful in the House, could keep Missouri with slavery out indefinitely.

The answer was to bring Maine into the Union free and Missouri slave. At the same time, it was agreed that the remainder of the vast Louisiana territory north of the parallel of 36 degrees 30 minutes should be, like the old Northwest, forever free, while the southern portion was left to slavery.

This was an immense gain for liberty, for the area dedicated to free farmers was many times greater than that left to slave plantation operations. But the Great Compromise of 1950 vitiated the Missouri Compromise by introducing the principle that the people in the territory to be admitted as a state might themselves decide whether they would have slavery or not.

THE KANSAS-NEBRASKA Bill, which became law on May 30, 1854, specifically declared the Missouri Compromise null and void. Thus, on the eve of the Civil War, only the North and Central states and the areas now California and Oregon were Free Soil.

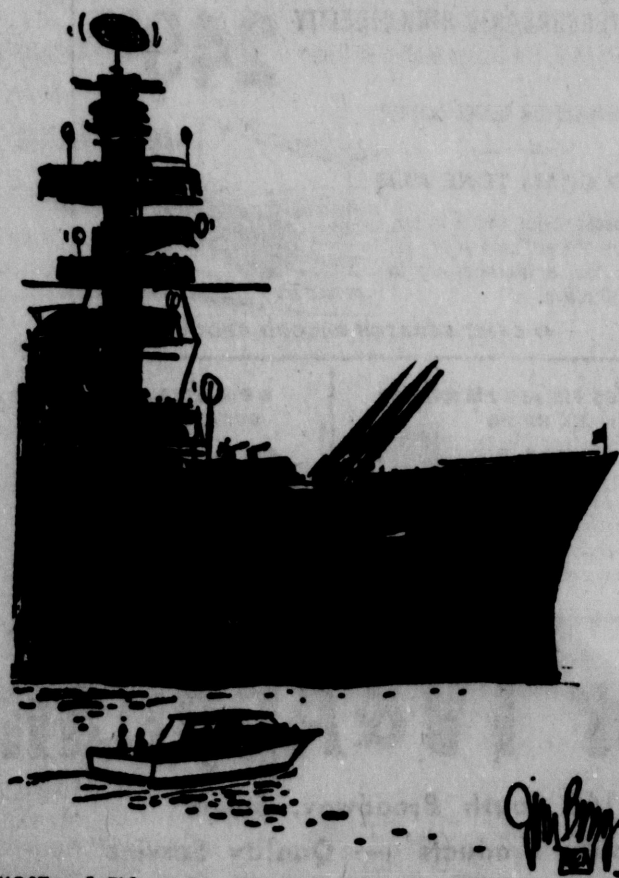

Sen. Richard B. Russell, (D-Ga.), leader of the fight against the civil rights bill, on May 19 called the Dirksen compromise "more obnoxious" than the House-passed measure, charging that it was aimed specifically at the South. Civil rights bills seven and four years ago were made more palatable to the South by eliminating sections authorizing widespread intervention by the federal government, just as the Missouri Compromise was a concession for a strategic gain.

The Dirksen compromise is not so much a concession to the South as to senators, mostly Republicans, on the fence regarding closure.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you made the statement that two blue-eyed parents could have a brown-eyed child. I believe you are wrong.

To have a brown-eyed child at least one of the parents must be brown-eyed because the gene for the expression of brown eye color is dominant. (Ann Landers note: A gene is one of the elements of the germ plasma which transmits hereditary characteristics.)

If your statement is true, then it should be noted that all the recent books on biology, zoology and genetics dealing with human inheritance are incorrect. I offer the following references to substantiate my position: (1) Wodessalke, J. E. General Zoology. Wm. C. Brown Co. (1963); (2) Ville, C. A. Biology, 4th Ed. Saunders (1962); (3) Marsland, D. Principles of Modern Biology, Holt, Rinehart and Winston (1964). What is your authority? — Respectfully — M.J.F. ASSISTANT PROF. OF BIOLOGY, QUINSIGAMOND COMMUNITY COLLEGE, WORCESTER, MASS.

Dear M.J.F.: Thank you, Professor, and thanks to the hundreds of other professors and students who wrote to tell me I was wrong. Your comments are appreciated, but I am NOT wrong.

My principle authority is Dr. Carl Witkop, the distinguished chief of the Human Genetics Branch of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md.

Dr. Witkop says: "In the early days of genetics it was believed that eye color was determined by a single pair of genes. We now know that this is incorrect and that eye color is transmitted by at least three genes. In the vast majority of cases two blue-eyed parents will produce a blue-eyed child, but it is now an established fact that two blue-eyed parents can produce a brown-eyed child."

Dr. Witkop cites as his authorities, Stern, Curt, Principles of Human Genetics, 2nd Edition, W. H. Freeman and Co. (1960). Sorsby, Arnold, Genetics, C. V. Mosby Co. (1953).

So, to repeat — If it happens in your family, think nothing of it.

absolutely right.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems.

Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A COVERDISH SUPPER preceded the annual YWCA membership meeting recently at the "Y".

Miss Ruth Cosgrove gave the invocation and presided at the business session.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Herman Stratton and Mrs. Frank Mason, chairman of volunteers, spoke briefly.

Highlight of the evening was the showing of colored slides taken by Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Rockefeller on their world journey during which Mrs. Rockefeller visited YWCA's in 75 countries. Commentary was by Mrs. Franklin Henderson.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: For years I waited for my first good formal evening dress. I bought a black silk organdy dress with three petticoats. I accidentally cut myself and got blood on it. Now (klslik efin gernal l po lish oo it looks like fingernail polish. How can I take this out myself? Don't recommend professional cleaners. I have already asked the cleaners, and he wants the rest of my blood to clean it!

DEAR ETHEL: First your dress may not be silk organdy. But I know what you mean and thanks for the sample you sent. Take a clean wash cloth, dip it in cold water, wring it out and after pressing a wad of facial tissues under the spot, dab the wet wash cloth on the spot until it disintegrates and seeps through to the facial tissue.

Turn the tissue to a clean part and continue until the spot is gone.

DO NOT RUB this fabric. Remember, only blot. If you rub, you'll ruin the dress.

As for sending that beautiful dress to the cleaners to have it done professionally, do not despair there, either. I know how to save at least $2.50. Look in the waist band and see how many petticoats you can detach!

You are probably not aware of it but most of these extra petticoats inside the dress are only tacked on with a little thread! All you have to do is take a little pair of scissors and snip it off. After all, the petticoats aren't soiled, are they? Retack the petticoats after cleaning.

When I asked a cleaner about this complaint, he carefully explained to me that they have to charge $2.50 upwards, for EACH petticoat underneath a gorgeous dress like this, especially when they are voluminous.

ANOTHER THING I would like to tell you mothers of teenagers who buy these pretty little formal and informal with lots and lots of petticoats. . . think, before you buy, what your cleaning bill will be.

One widower wrote that he paid $19.95 for his daughter's graduation dress, but they charged him $15 to clean it! This was because there were four petticoats and each was made of a different material. Save your pennies, gals.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: The legs of my kitchen set are forever scratching my tile floor. I tried all sorts of things but the perfect solution was to cut felt from an old hat, the size of the feet on the chairs, and glue them to the bottom of each leg.

This type of heavy felt will not peel off. To make the edges of the felt a little more peel-proof, coat the foot and the edge of the felt with clear nail polish.

Leave the chair upside down until the felt is completely dry.

ETHEL JOHNSON.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have an old shower curtain, do let the kids have it for finger-painting. It is wonderful.

This saves the expense of buying all the paper, and if they draw one picture you particularly want to keep just cut off that piece of the curtain.

The shower curtain may be washed after each painting.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I came upon a new use for empty spice jars, such as garlic salt, onion salt, etc.

One of my recipes called for flour to be shaken onto meat balls, so I simply removed the inner plastic lid of the empty seasoning jar, spooned in the flour, replaced the lid, and had a handy flour shaker.

These jars are also wonderful for flouring cake pans.

MRS. DORIS L. STERN.

DEAR HELOISE: Extra-large gift boxes can be easily wrapped in paper tablecloths to fit the occasion, such as birthday, anniversary, baby shower, etc. I saw a box containing a play pen wrapped this way and it was real cute and so practical!

Morton Named By Republicans

Kentucky Senator To Head Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee meets today to approve Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon as the top officers for the party's 1964 convention.

The convention arrangements committee named Morton permanent chairman Monday. He had no opposition.

Overcoming opposition from some backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the committee combined the jobs of temporary chairman and keynote speaker and gave them to Hatfield.

Generally Morton is considered a moderate Republican. Hatfield, who usually is associated with the party's liberal wing, had been recommended for permanent chairman by the Republican Governor's Conference.

Neither man has openly supported any of the potential GOP presidential nominees.

Some Goldwater supporters had said they would fight any move to combine the job of temporary chairman — for which Hatfield had been ticketed — and the post of keynote speaker, which was wide open after National Chairman William E. Miller withdrew from consideration.

After the committee voted 28 to 20 to combine the jobs and then picked Hatfield over Gov. Tim M. Babcock of Montana by an even wider margin, 28 to 10, spokesmen for Goldwater said they were satisfied.

Miller, announcing the selections, noted that Republicans had only two major convention officers prior to 1952.

With no contests for the nomination in 1956 and 1960, he said, the three-way split of top jobs, adopted in 1952, was retained to give more exposure to Republican leaders.

"Obviously our situation this time is entirely different," Miller said. He said convention planners are faced with the task of trying to squeeze the proceedings from San Francisco into prime television time for the East. He said there could be eight or nine nominations for president, each carrying four seconding speeches, thus lengthening the program.

Two others who had been mentioned as keynoter possibilities withdrew from consideration after the committee voted to combine the job with temporary chairman. They are Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., the choice of some Goldwater backers, and Minnesota state Chairman Robert A. Forsythe, who served in the Eisenhower administration as assistant secretary of welfare.

Unity Residents Seek Light At Intersection

LISBON — Commissioner Walter Hunston today took a petition requesting the placing of a traffic light at the intersection of Rts. 14 and 170 in Unity to Division 11 of the State Highway Department headquarters at New Philadelphia.

The petition, signed by 50 area residents, asked for a "stop" light to replace the "caution" light already erected there.

Hunston was permitted travel allowance for the trip when the Commissioners met Monday at the court house. A fire at the county home caused cancellation of other business. The Commissioners will meet again Thursday.

He is survived by a son, Joseph W. of Minerva; a sister, Mrs. Blanche Miller of Louisville; a brother, Arthur, of New Franklin, and two grandchildren.

EAST PALESTINE — Alfred Garrod, 90, of RD 1, East Palestine, died of infirmities Monday at 6:30 a.m. in Salem City Hospital.

Mr. Garrod is survived by his wife, Mattie Brown Garrod, whom he married July 2, 1895; a daughter, Mrs. Dan Johnston of RD Hanover; a son, Howard R. Garrod of East Palestine; nine grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren. A son, Merle R. and a daughter, Mrs. George Clark, preceded him in death.

phia. With it will go another resolution relieving the state of responsibility for anything that might happen during the Lions street fair and parade on state routes in June.

In other action, Council took under consideration a request from the Ohio Edison Co., for a new contract covering residential and commercial use, traffic lights and street lights.

Deane Beck of Lisbon, Salem Area Manager, presented and explained copies of the proposed ordinance being presented to 63 ordinance areas in Ohio Edison's distribution system.

Beck said, "We are changing the rates to make installation and removal of demand meters optional with the customer rather than mandatory. We are also adding a new bottom block rate of 1.4 cents per kilowatt hour in both residential and commercial rates. In Lisbon this will result in a total annual decrease of $755—about $60 less from residential customers and $695 less from commercial users." Lisbon has approximately 1,500 meters.

The present street light ordinance expires next Jan. 1 with Lisbon having 36 large street lights and over 200 smaller ones outside the business district. The bill runs $680 to $700 per month. The rate would not change under the proposed ordinance, the village has individual contracts for the eight lights. The total bill is $28.50 per month.

Beck advised council the rates are the same as those in non-ordinance areas which have been approved by the public utilities commission and are now in effect.

Council's next meeting will be June 8.

Death Toll Set At 328 In Riot

Peru Soccer Game Ends In Disaster

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Feelings ran high in the Peruvian capital today and police were on the alert for more disorders in the wake of Sunday's bloody finale to a soccer game.

Police announced an official toll of 328 dead in the panic after police fired tear gas to check a riot in Lima's National Stadium.

The police said 122 of the victims had not been identified. It was the sports world's worst disaster, and the International Soccer Federation, with headquarters in Zurich, Switzerland, asked the Peruvian association for detailed information. The rioters were protesting a referee's decision against the Peruvian team in a Peru-Argentina pre-Olympic match.

The police used tear gas again Monday to break up a small demonstration by students in front of San Marcos University. The police said inflammatory speeches were being made.

Police reinforcements repelled a Lima mob headed toward the home of Commander Jorge de Asumbuja, whom they accused of ordering tear gas shells fired into the crowd pouring onto the soccer playing field.

Asumbuja said none of the gas grenades was fired into the stands. He blamed locked exit gates for the mass suffocation and trampling of the victims.

Argentina was leading 1-0 when Peru scored a goal on an accidental kick by an Argentine player. Referee Eduardo Pazos of Uruguay nullified the point because of a foul.

Fighting broke out among some of the 4,000 fans and police escorted Pazos and the players from the field. Pazos declared Argentina the victor.

As portions of the mob surged toward the playing field, police fired tear gas into the crowd.

In an attempt to escape the choking fumes, the mob surged toward exit gates, locked to keep non-paying youths from sneaking in to watch the game.

two-thirds vote needed to invoke cloture and shut off the Dixie oratory that has blocked action on the House-passed bill.

Dirksen said this may be a little early.

He noted that a jury trial amendment has been before the Senate for three weeks without a final vote.

This issue must be decided before the leaders' amendment package can be put before the Senate. Dirksen said a consensus had not been reached yet on the best way to handle the jury trial question.

Many senators regard the floor discussion as a marking-time operation until the show-down—cloture—comes in June.

Dirksen said some additional language modifications were accepted as a result of the Republican caucuses on the bill, but that the package as disclosed last week remained pretty much intact.

Some GOP senators said after the session they believed their chances for passage of the bill had improved, but others voiced dissatisfaction.

QUAKERS ARE HERE! — It was an exciting time when the new, red Quaker yearbooks, 950 strong, arrived at the Senior High School Monday for distribution to the student body today at the recognition assembly. The staff heads, who got first peek at the production, were from left, editor-in-chief Betsy Heston, copy editors Sue Schmid and Dee Whitney, and business manager Bill Hart.

book was printed by Keller Co. of Buffalo on new-type paper.

About 90 per cent of the student body gets the annual, a much higher percentage than most schools, the adviser said. The yearbook staff operated on an approximate budget of $6,000, all of which is raised by the staff or through student association fees.

The business staff, headed by Bill Hart, sold some $2400 worth of advertising, a tribute to the cooperation of local merchants.

Last year's annual was given an All-American rating from the National Scholastic Press Association and this year's staff is hoping for a similar recognition. This was only one of three such ratings given to schools the size of Salem on a nationwide basis.

The yearbook has won All-American awards since 1957, so this year's expectations are justified.

Miss Cobourn said books will be available to the public starting tomorrow at $5 each.

William Lippiatt, 57, of RD 5, Salem, was cited by police for driving a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol and no operator's license after a crash today at 8:30 a.m. at South Broadway and Aetna.

He turned left into the path of a car operated by Gladys I. Graybeal, 39, of 480 Euclid St. She was proceeding north on Broadway and had the green light when Lippiatt's car struck her, police said.

Car Loses Wheel, Hits Sign; Girl Passenger Injured

Miss Lucille Zamarelli, 16, of 1357 Carole Dr. was slightly hurt when the left rear wheel of a car in which she was a passenger fell off, sending the vehicle into the Episcopal Church sign just south of the city limits on Route 45 at 10:05 p.m. Monday.

The girl, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zamarelli, suffered only a bruised right hip and did not require treatment.

The Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol said she was riding southward in an auto operated by Alan E. Miner, 17, of 239 S. Lundy.

Two persons were cited following two other Monday night traffic mishaps.

James Lee Sanor, 17, of RD 2, Minerva, was cited to juvenile court after a sideswiping incident, and Earl C. Ray, 36, of Chester, W. Va., was charged with failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Sanor came over a hillcrest at 6 p.m. on County Rd. 403, just south of Route 172 at Chambersburg, and collided with a car operated by Ivan E. Williams, 24, of Minerva.

Ray smashed the rear of a truck operated by Thomas H. Virden, 50, of RD 2, East Liverpool, as the latter was turning left into a private drive Monday at noon on Route 7, two-tenths of a mile south of the Mahoning-Columbiana County line.

St. Clair Township Water District Set

LISBON — Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Monday night signed the final court order creating the new southeastern water and sewage district for St. Clair and parts of Liverpool townships.

Nearly 30 persons attended a meeting here last night when no written objections to temporary plans were filed.

The district will obtain water from the city of East Liverpool.

Matter of Fact

Sweet potatoes are propagated not by seeds, but by sprouts and cuttings. This is because, except in the tropics, the seeds produce plants totally unlike the parent plant. Tropical sweet potatoes do produce seeds, but with such hard coats that they sometimes take a year to germinate.

Health Questions And Answers

Q—What could cause chronic inflammation of the tongue? What can be done for it?

A—Inflammation of the tongue may be caused by a deficiency of vitamin B-2 or niacin in your diet. Both vitamins are supplied by leafy green vegetables and vitamin-enriched bread. Other possible causes are sprue, pernicious anemia. Treatment would consist in removing the cause, rather than applying any mouthwash or local medication to your tongue.

Striking out at Rockefeller and his other opponents, he added: "I will not offer you a crybaby candidacy that says do it my way or I won't play."

Goldwater, who had planned previously to taper off his California campaigning, told the cheering throng that "I intend to spend the next six days discussing the issues and nothing else, even though the temptation is very great."

This was an obvious reference to the "smear" charges he said had been made against him in the state campaign.

Earlier in the day, at Shasta College, Goldwater had produced an arrow, stuck it under his arm, and turned around to make it appear he had been shot in the back. He told a crowd of about 1,500 that this was what had been happening to him in recent weeks.

He indicated clearly that he thought the arrows had been coming from Republican bows.

Dry Cleaners, Lions Club Capture Class G Openers

Class H Loop Gets Started

Dairy Isle, Hose Co. Pick Up Victories

Tim Smith tallied the winning run in the bottom-half of the seventh inning to give National Dry Cleaners a come-from-behind 9-8 triumph over Brickers at Centennial Park as the Salem Junior Baseball season got underway Monday.

Lions Club chalked up its initial win as it nipped Scott's Sports 6-5 at Memorial Park. Both contests were Class G competition.

In Class H action, Dairy Isle edged Cherry Hill 12-11 at Buckeye Field, and Independent Hose Company beat Moose Lodge 11-4 at Kelley Field.

For National Dry Cleaners, Smith, who collected three hits, led off the seventh with a single, then scored on an error.

BRICKERS CUT LOOSE with six runs in the first frame. Key hits by Dave Sechler and Kirby Tinsley, both triples, plus three costly errors paved the way.

Down 8-1 in the third, the winners started their comeback with a five-run outburst. Dave Shasteen and Gary Cook led the rally with timely doubles.

In the last half of the fifth, the Cleaners tied the score 7-7 with two big runs. Dale Cody and Fred Saffred hit back-to-back doubles, and Dick Meyers and Gary Jackson came through with singles.

Shasteen also collected three hits for the winners. Scott Rifle smacked a double and two singles for the losers.

LIONS CLUB scored all its runs in the first five innings. Two runs came home in the fifth for the margin of victory.

Richard Charneskey was walked, leading off in the frame and advanced on a single by James Shoff. With two out, Richard Cramer hit a single to score both base-runners.

Scott's bid in the top of the seventh just missed. Behind 6-4, Richie Roberts led off the frame with a single. He moved to second on an error and to third on a fielder's choice, then raced home on another error.

Cramer led the Lions Club with three singles. James Shoff was the winning pitcher. He struck out 12 and walked only three. Tom Capel paced the losers with a double and two singles.

DAIRY ISLE rallied in the fifth inning for three runs to garner its win.

Trailing 10-9, Bob Houger walked, raced home on a double by Robin Bailey, who tallied along with Bob Daley on an error.

Daley, who came on in relief for the winners, hurled five and two-thirds innings. He gave up only three hits, while striking out 11 and walking four.

John Mehmo collected two of those hits for the losers, and Bill Sunderman singled for the other. Tim Krepps, the Cherry Hill pitcher, struck out 12 batters, and walked only three.

Independent Hose Company managed to get only one hit, but took advantage of 12 walks for its victory. Ed Galchick got a single in the four-run first inning.

Steve Fisher got the big hit of the game for the losers. He belted a two-run homer in Moose Lodge's three-run fourth inning.

In 12 National Basketball Association playoff games last season, San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain averaged 34.7 points a game.

Late Model Cars Slated At Canfield

The new cars, 1963 and 1964 models, will roar around the Canfield Speedway quarter-mile oval Friday night, launching the big holiday weekend session. All of the big names of ARCA will be in the lineup.

Then on Saturday night the regular late models and amateurs, more than 100 of them, will compete in a gigantic 8-race program which includes four features—all of them 35 laps.

Nelson Stacy of Daytona Beach will head the classy field of new cars Friday night. At present, Stacy drives a 1964 Ford and is fourth in the ARCA standings. He won the big Daytona stock classic earlier this year.

Jim Cushman of Columbus leads the way in his 1964 Plymouth, with Jack Bowsher of Springfield, second in a 1964 Ford. Earl Balmer of Floyd Knobs, Ind., follows in the ARCA standings in a 1964 Plymouth and trailing Stacy in fifth spot is the veteran Iggy Katona of Willis, Mich., in a 1964 Ford. Bowsher, a previous winner at Canfield, took the 300 miles at Nashville two weeks ago.

ARCA President John Marum has lined up a classy field that will include some 25 cars, half of them 1964 models. Virgil Barbe of Detroit will bring in a 1964 Pontiac, Charles Glotzbach, Edwardsville, Ind., a 1964 Chevrolet, and Tony Lavetti of Cleveland, a 1964 Pontiac.

Among the other entries are Clyde Parker of Detroit, Danny Byrd, Detroit; Dick Freeman, Dayton; Homer Newland, Royal Oak, Mich.; Les Snow, Bloomington; Andy Hampton, Louisville and many others.

Both the Friday and Saturday night race cards will begin at 8 p.m. Time trials get rolling at 6:30 p.m.

First Assembly Wins Slo-Pitch Contest

Bob Hutton socked a home run and a single to pace First Assembly of God. Paul Barth and Dick Barnes each had three hits. Don Geho was the winning hurler.

Dave Giffin, the losing hurler, threw three hits. Pitcher Carl Shinn smacked a home run, while his teammate Rick Gregg belted two triples and a single for First Friends.

Ken Ziegler and Gary Getz also had three hits apiece for the winners. Jim Blasiman led Phillip's Christian with a home run and single.

Landis Out of Chisox Dog-House, Strokes Home Run In 7-4 Victory

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer Jim Landis, the hitting man's Jim Brosnan, has closed the book on his squabble with the Chicago White Sox and started to author an impressive batting average.

Landis, only four days removed from the White Sox dog-house, led off the seventh inning Monday night with his first homer of the season, a pinch-hit job that triggered Chicago's American League leaders to a four-run rally and a 7-4 victory over Kansas City.

It was the fourth hit in seven at-bats for Landis since a peace parley with Manager Al Lopez settled a dispute that threatened to wind up in a cause celebre almost as big as the one that cost pitcher-author Brosnan his job with the club.

Landis got off on the wrong foot this season when he had an argument with General Manager Ed Short over fees for television appearances. Landis wound up asking to be traded. Lopez countered by keeping the 30-year-old outfielder on the bench.

Up until last Thursday, Landis had been to the plate only five times. Then Lopez and Landis, who hit .272 when the White Sox won the pennant in 1959 but only .228 and .225 the last two years, got together to work out the problem.

"I felt a little odd about being out for so long," said Landis after lifting his average to .417 with the homer. "But I wasn't worried about getting out of shape, because I'm thin anyway and I was taking batting practice every day."

While Landis boosted his average, Minnesota rookie Tony

Oliva raised the league's leading average to .391 with a 3-for-4 performance and Jimmie Hall stroked four hits in a 16-hit attack that carried the Twins to an 8-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels.

Elsewhere, Bill Freehan drove in two runs with a homer and double as Detroit whipped Baltimore 5-3 and Boston turned two errors into three unearned runs and a 6-5 victory over Washington.

Cleveland and the New York Yankees were not scheduled while the entire National League was idle.

Landis, batting for starter Gary Peters, tied the score 3-3 and the White Sox took it from there. Al Weis then singled, moved around to third on a balk and an infield out and scored the tie-breaker on Pete Ward's single before Ron Hansen wrapped up the outburst with a two-run homer.

Ward and J. C. Martin also homered for Chicago while Peters brought his record to 5-2 with Hoyt Wilhelm's relief help.

Oliva scored three runs for the Twins and Hall drove in three in support of Camilo Pascual, who brought his record to 6-2 with a four-hit, 10-strikeout performance. Oliva supplied the game's only homer, a two-run shot in the first inning that was actually all Pascual needed.

Freehan doubled home a run in the first inning and scored on a single by Don Demeter, then homered in the fourth as the Tigers chased Steve Barber. Barber, a 20-game winner for the Orioles last year, failed in his fifth attempt to post victory

No. 1. Ed Rakow was the winning pitcher, limiting Baltimore to two hits over the final 5 1-3 innings. The Red Sox broke a tie in the sixth when Bob Tillman drove in the lead run with a double following a single by Carl Yastrzewski and an error by Don Zimmer that let Roman Mejias reach base. A walk, and Don Blasingame's error and a single by Ed Bressoud scored the other two runs. John Kennedy homered for the Senators.

Tribe Starts Series With Yanks Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — For a team that suffered a humiliating defeat—four straight losses—at the hands of the New York Yankees earlier this month, the Cleveland Indians have shown a lot of bounce.

They won five straight after being bombed by the Yankees and are hanging in third place in the league standings, two and one-half games behind Chicago and a half a game ahead of New York.

Manager George Strickland has good reason to say: "These guys have shown me they can bounce back and that they don't give up. We'll hang in there and once we get off this trip, we ought to be in pretty good shape."

The Indians, idle Monday, play the Yankees here tonight and tomorrow.

They go to Washington for a weekend series before opening a 21-game stand in Cleveland.

Jim Grant, who has won three and lost three, faces the Yankees tonight, and Jack Kralick will pitch Wednesday. Kralick, with a 4-0 record, boasts a 1.31 earned run average, one of the best in the league.

Booming shooters like Jack Nicklaus and George Bayer may have to ride the sun-baked, par 71 Indianapolis Motor Speedway golf course with governors on their drivers.

Nicklaus, top PGA money-winner, and three former Speedway champions head a cast of 50 pros seeking one of the year's more substantial top purses, $12,000.

Masters champion Arnold Palmer again has elected to skip this unique meet—certainly the first ever to delay its final round a day while 250,000 speed-minded patrons watch a 31-3-hour roadster chase.

They have nice hard retaining walls to keep the snarling metal monsters from going out of bounds in Saturday's big race. The 6,467-yard golf course which meanders partly into the vast infield of the Speedway's 2½-mile oval is another matter.

The tourney directors, at the suggestion of the pros, narrowed the fairways to 30 yards and let the rough grow to three inches.

But, with the turf as dry and as hard as it is, it probably will make little difference where the shots land for the more able gunners, among them 21 of the top 25 PGA cash collectors.

Some may drive the greens on several par 4 holes. The 72-hole record is a 20-under-par 284 by Billy Casper, winner two years ago on rounds of 66-67-67-64.

Casper is back, along with two-time winner Doug Ford (1960 - 1961) and last year's titlist, Dow Finsterwald.

Souchak Fails To Qualify For U.S. Open Tournament

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just when burly Mike Souchak, the old Duke football place-kicker, thought he had his golf game back in shape after a two-year slump he got thrown for a loss.

Mike was the biggest casualty as a field of about 2,000 started on the long qualifying trail to the U.S. Open at Washington, June 18-20.

Local qualifying rounds over 36 holes were staged at 54 courses Monday. Three more tests will be held today, all in the metropolitan New York area.

A total of 428 golfers will advance to the sectional qualifying rounds scheduled for June 8-9.

Twenty-one players, including defending champion Julius Boros and recent champions Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Bill Casper and Gene Littler, are exempt from all qualifying, and 45 others were allowed to skip the local test.

Souchak's failure was the most noteworthy. Another was Bill Hyndman II, Walker Cupper and former runner-up in both the U.S. and British amateurs. He missed at Ambler, Pa.

In Phoenix, Frank Stranahan, former British Amateur champion and veteran pro tourist, failed to qualify when he soared to 73-86-159.

Nearly all other name players advanced.

Big Mike had expected to have little trouble. He tried at Memphis, scene of the Memphis Open last week which he won with a 72-hole score of 270, lowest on the tour this year.

That was Souchak's second victory in five weeks, and put him sixth on the money list with more than $22,000.

It had been a long dry spell for Souchak since he was the halfway leader in the 1960 Open and a factor in 1961. Souchak finished three strokes back of the leader in both those years.

But the best he could do Monday was 73-74-147. There were 39 qualifying spots at Memphis, but it took 145 to get one.

Gay Brewer, tied for fourth in the Memphis Open, led the big field with 67-68-135.

Among the others who qualified there were: Jerry Pittman, 136; Fred Haas, Ken Venturi and Bill Collins, 138; Al Bessellink and Bruce Devlin of Australia, 139; Joe Campbell, 141; Bill Dunk of Australia, 142; Phil Rodgers, Dave Thomas of England and Bob Duden, 143; Rex Baxter and Bob Verwey of South Africa, 144.

Major League Baseball Attendance Increases

NEW YORK (AP)—Who said baseball is a dying sport. A survey of attendance figures indicated Tuesday that big league baseball is a healthy patient, particularly the National League in which an all-time high looms for the second straight season.

The senior circuit gate is up 273,740, or 11 per cent, over last season. The American League has a decrease of 205,449. But the over-all totals show an increase of 68,291, despite cold and rainy weather in the opening weeks.

Twelve of the 20 teams are ahead of 1963, led by the Los Angeles Dodgers, who have played before 727,973 at home—a gain of 99,543. The Cleveland Indians show the largest increase in the American League, 66,993.

Other teams on the plus side in home attendance are the Milwaukee Braves 57,778, Philadelphia Phillies 57,747, Chicago Cubs 32,665, Detroit Tigers 22,277, New York Mets 18,646, Chicago White Sox 13,827, San Francisco Giants 12,397, Baltimore Orioles 10,254, St. Louis Cardinals 4,855 and Houston Colt .45s 3,125.

The Los Angeles Angels and Minnesota Twins are most responsible for the drop in the AL gate total. The Angels trail their 1963 figure by 122,764 and the Twins by 79,372.

Congress 'Making Sounds' About It

Succession Problem Still Remains Unsolved

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—That big hole at the top of the government—the empty vice presidency—is still there. Congress is making sounds about doing something and, as usual, it's all uncertain.

Equally important, perhaps more so, is the twin problem never yet settled by law: presidential disability. For instance: who decides the next in line should be president if the president refuses to admit he can't do his job?

If Congress does act this year—it may not be able to because the Southern filibuster on civil rights has everything gummed up—it will probably be in the form of a constitutional amendment.

Starting out, that needs a two-thirds vote by House and Senate. Next, three-fourths of the states' legislatures must approve. This could take several years.

Congress long ago tried to provide for the line of succession if the president died and there was no vice president. But it has never tackled the disability problem.

Here are some examples of what Congress has done to cover the situation if there's no vice president and the president dies:

By act of March 1, 1793, Congress provided for the Senate's president pro tempore (one of the senators) and the speaker of the House to succeed to the presidency in that order. That lasted 93 years.

On Jan. 19, 1886, Congress passed another act. This knocked out the 1793 law and said the line of succession should be through the Cabinet, starting with the secretary of state. That lasted 61 years.

On July 18, 1947, Congress changed the law again. Now the line of succession goes this way: Speaker of the House, the Senate's president pro tempore and then the Cabinet.

But eight times—when presidents died in office and were succeeded by their vice presidents—the country has been left without a vice president, as it is now. It so happened that none of the vice presidents who became president died in office.

The assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the succession to the presidency of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, leaving the No. 2 spot vacant again, has forced the country to look at the problem again.

In a nuclear age like this, when an enemy attack might within a few minutes remove a president and vice president, the problem looks vivid.

But there is that other problem of disability. Since there was no law on the subject, President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and President Kennedy arranged with their vice presidents for them to take over if the president became disabled.

But suppose a president is too disabled to know it. How does the vice president step in? And what happens if a president can't carry out his duties but won't admit it?

A subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee has been studying the problem for months and this week is expected to urge the full committee to approve this solution:

PASTORALE BY MOONLIGHT — "Shepherd of Manali," first-prize photo in fifth annual contest sponsored by Pacific Area Travel Assn., was taken in Manali, a sheep-raising area at the extreme northern tip of India, in the foothills of the Himalayas. T. Kasi Nath, of New Delhi, is the photographer.

When there's no vice president, the president must nominate a vice president, but he can't take office unless approved by a majority of both houses. When a president says in writing he's too disabled to carry out his job, the vice president would become acting president until the president declared his disability ended.

If the president should not make known his disability, the vice president with the concurrence of a majority of the Cabinet could declare the president disabled and assume the powers and duties but not the office of the president.

If the president disputed the act of the vice president and a majority of his Cabinet, Congress would decide with a two-thirds vote of both houses for the vice president to continue as acting president. Otherwise, the president would resume his powers and duties.

But if this ever comes to a vote in House and Senate, amendments offered on the floor could change the solutions just outlined. So, as of now there is nothing definite either about the final form or the final action.

Today is Tuesday, May 26, the 147th day of 1964. There are 219 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1868, the only American president ever to be impeached, Andrew Johnson, won his fight in the Senate, the impeachment forces losing by a single vote.

In 1668, the first meeting of the New Jersey Colonial Assembly was held.

In 1790, Tennessee was organized as a territory.

In 1942, Nazi armies opened drives on Stalingrad and the Caucasus.

In 1946 normal service was restored on railroads following a nationwide strike and the government ended its control of the lines.

Cancer Program Revisions Made

Revisions in the American Cancer Society's program of service to patients and the community are to go into effect here soon, it was announced today by Mrs. Audrey Newitz of East Liverpool, president of the Columbiana County unit of the society.

Mrs. Newitz reported the revisions were an outgrowth of a weekend meeting of American Cancer Society leaders in Cleveland. Mrs. Jayne Calhoun, executive director of the county unit.

BOY ON PROBATION

LISBON — Two Pleasant Heights 15-year-old youths from East Liverpool had a hearing Monday before Judge Louis Tobin for theft of money from pocketbooks at Lake Marvin and a transistor radio from an apartment at 207 Walnut St., East Liverpool.

One youth was placed on probation by the court for the theft of the money at the park and the hearing for the other youth was continued until Thursday so that both parents can be present with the boy.

The third youth, who had been implicated but was later exonerated, did not appear. Juvenile Officer James Miller said.

Early dwellers in the Holy Land understood irrigation, say archeologists, and in 2000 B.C. farm villages thrived in the now-barren Negev.

But Long on Irony, Envelope-Opening

Emmy Awards Program Was Short On Entertainment

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The television industry honored its own Monday night by passing out statuettes which one winner—Chet Huntley—described as "a somewhat maligned and slandered young woman."

As television award shows go, the NBC program was long on irony and envelope-opening and short on entertainment. CBS, which officially turned its back on the ceremonies, scooped up the lion's share of the awards—13 in all, with five going to the "Dick Van Dyke Show," four to "The Danny Kaye Show" and three to "The Defenders."

CBS News, whose president kicked off the furore over the awards, failed to win any in the news and documentary categories. But "The Making of the President, 1960," which was broadcast on ABC, which also joined the walkout, picked up four awards, including "Program of the Year." The program was made by an independent packager, David Wolper.

NBC was second with nine awards and ABC had five. Even if the voting methods of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences can be criticized, it would be hard to quarrel with the final results.

CBS, in a bit of enterprising broadcasting, will have Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Sen. Edward Kennedy, Britain's former Prime Minister Harold MacMillan, West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt and Irish Prime Minister Sean Lemass on a live transatlantic discussion of the late president's spiritual legacy. The half-hour program, using Telstar, will be televised here and abroad on Kennedy's 47th birthday anniversary Friday.

DAR Group Marks 10th Anniversary

The 10th anniversary of the founding of the Phoebe Fraunces chapter Daughters of American Revolution, organized in Salem May 28, 1954, and the Lewis Kinney chapter, organized in Lisbon, Oct. 21, 1954, will be celebrated at a guest night banquet Thursday evening at the Salem Golf Club.

Miss Amanda A. Thomas of Columbus, state regent of the Ohio Society DAR, will be the guest speaker. Other official guests will include Mrs. Gurney E. Fry, director of the Central-East district, and Mrs. Gerald F. Duryee, national defense committee woman, and regent of the Canton chapter; representatives of Bethia Southwick chapter of Wellsville, Rebecca Griscom chapter of East Liverpool, and the Jane Bain chapter of Alliance.

Mrs. Frederick S. Barckhoff Jr., is general chairman of the event, and Mrs. Charles F. Oertel Jr., reservations chairman.
